At Chef'n we believe that cooking should be fun! We create new and exciting tools designed to bring joy to your kitchen and make cooking a shareable experience.

This year we've got backyard parties, sunny picnics and get-togethers with friends in mind. Prep and freeze burgers for an impromptu cheeseburger night, whip up some jalapeno poppers for the big game, or make an eye-catching fruit salad for your next picnic. Each of our new tools takes a tedious kitchen task and turns it into fun food prep that is quick and easy!

Your New Favorite Two-in-One

With two tools in one you can prep and serve melon just the way you like it. The green tool makes for picture perfect cubes, and you'll have a ball using the red tool to make cute bite sized spheres. Slicing and chopping watermelon with a big knife is a juicy, messy, sticky affair. Make summer a little sweeter and a little neater with the Slice'n Cube from Chef'n!

Extra Cheese Please!

This clever cheese box is designed to keep your cheese fresh longer and make slicing a piece of your favorite fromage easy peasy. Whether you're sneaking a quick late night snack or prepping for a delicious grilled cheese sandwich the Slice'n Store Cheese Storage Box makes it fun and easy! More cheese? Yes please!

Making Pepper Prep Easy!

Let's get to the core of the problem. Prepping peppers can be tricky business! The Chef'n QuickCore+ makes it simple and we've got a solution for multiple different peppers too. Use the large corer to cleanly remove the seeds and core from bell peppers. If you're in the mood for a little more spice, the small corer works great on jalapenos. This dynamic duo is perfect for stuffed peppers, jalapeno poppers and more. What can we say, it's the preferred pepper prepper!

Slicing Apples has Never Been so Sweet

Slice, Slice Baby! Take your apple pie, afternoon snack or charcuterie board to the next level with the Chef'n Apple Corer & Slicer. Easily remove the center of the fruit with the corer, then place the slicer over your apple and press down; 16 thin, even slices ready for baking, snacking or serving. The two tools nest together for tidy storage and the slicer comes with a cover to protect your fingers from the blades when not in use. Don't think twice, give your apple a 16-slice!

Hot off the Grill!

Fold'n Freeze, make dinner a breeze! With the new Chef'n Fold 'n Freeze Burger Mold, your next barbeque or camping trip will be a (homemade) treat! Mix up your favorite burger recipe - veggie, salmon, or classic hamburger will all work great - then fill the tray and freeze. Voila! You can remove one patty at a time, or do burger night with the whole family. Say yes to less mess, with Chef'n!

2024 Trends We Love

Fantastic Fungi

Mushrooms are magic

With plant-based eating on the rise more people are turning to mushrooms for meaty texture and umami flavor. But mushrooms are so much more! They can improve gut and brain health, reduce your risk of diseases and support the immune system! Keep your tastebuds, brain and belly happy. Make more mushrooms!

Check out our mushroom tools on page 28

Legumes for Longevity

Beans to the rescue

Beans and legumes are simply delicious. Plus, they are healthy for you and the planet, and they're easy on your grocery budget too. As more home cooks focus on eating less meat as part of an eco-conscious lifestyle, beans are quickly becoming a superhero ingredient. The more you eat the better you feel, so let's eat beans for every meal!

Check out our VeggiChop perfect for making hummus, on page 25, and our 3-In-1 Colander great for soaking beans and legumes, on page 39

Spice It Up

Flavor and function

Adding spice to your food and drinks not only adds depth and flavor, it can even make your meal healthier! Many spices and aromatics provide antioxidants, have anti-inflammatory properties, or other health benefits.

Check out our Ginger Tool and SpiceBall on page 31

Eat Your Greens

Greens Greens Greens!

Leafy greens like kale, spinach, and chard are powerhouses of nutrients and antioxidants. These super foods can give your brain a boost and lower your risk of disease. Turns out your mom was right. You really should eat your greens!

Check out our salad accessories on pages 25-26

Counter to Table

Grow your own greens

Growing sprouts, microgreens and herbs at home is an easy way to give your meals a boost of flavor and nutrition. Plus less waste than store bought greens means it fits in line with your earth-friendly lifestyle. From counter to table is the way to grow!

Check out our Microgreen Grower and Countertop Sprouter on page 26

Keep Produce Fresh

Fresh veggies are happy veggies

Keeping your produce in tip-top shape is not just a kitchen trend; it's a game-changer for your taste buds and the planet. Properly storing fruit and veggies means longer lasting flavors and textures. It's a win-win being eco-friendly and budget-savvy all at once.

Check out our produce storage options on pages 22-23

Eat Plants, Waste Less

Time to get scrappy!

Eating plants isn't just good for you it's good for the earth too. Using a countertop compost bit to collect food scraps, like fruit and veggie peels, is an easy step toward a more sustainable lifestyle and a tidier kitchen! Collecting food scraps, and turning them into compost helps isolate carbon, which reduces greenhouse emissions. So let's toast to more compost!

Check out our compost bins and accessories on page 40

Cozy Connection

Share moments, make memories

Social connection and community has been shown to improve mental health, help prevent illnesses and promote overall well being. So make a toasty snack or something warm to sip on and connect with a friend or two!
